Statement from Mayor James A. Garner, President of The United States Conference of Mayors

About Senator Kerry Not Addressing Mayors Conference

Boston, MA – Mayor James A. Garner, President of The United States Conference of Mayors said, “We are disappointed that we will not hear from Senator Kerry on his agenda for America’s cities and metro areas, and that we will not be able to discuss our bipartisan priorities with him during this important election year.

“We look forward to meeting with Senator Kerry in the near future to discuss our agenda for America’s cities.”

More than 200 of the nation’s mayors are in Boston, just weeks before the national political conventions, for the 72nd Annual Meeting of The United States Conference of Mayors. The Conference concludes on Tuesday, June 29.
